

LOCALS LOSE 2 GAMES OF BASKETBALL

BLOOMINGTON H. S. DEFEATS GREENCASTLE H. S. REGULARS BY SCORE OF 30 TO 22, WHILE FILMORE TEAM TAKES LONG END OF 30 TO 10 GAME PLAYED WITH INELIGIBLES.

CRUMP WAS THE STAR

The Greencastle high school basketball team lost a hard fought game to the fast Bloomington high school team Friday night on the Armory floor. The score was 30 to 22. The game was fast and well played throughout. Filmore high school won from the local high school ineligible in a game played as a curtain raiser.

The game Friday night was by far the most interesting and fastest game played on the local floor this season. Very few fouls were called on either team and the contest was hard fought from the beginning to end. It was anybody's game until the last few minutes of play when the Bloomington lads scored several field goals in quick succession and won.

The team work of the Bloomington boys was much better than that of the Greencastle lads. Their ability to make short passes and take the ball from one end of the floor to the other was excellent. The Bloomington boys were unable to make long shots, however. All their point getters were scored from under the basket.

The local boys were off form when it came to hitting the hoop. Especially during the first half of play did the Greencastle lads miss many good shots at a close range to the basket. The first half of the game started with a rush. Two fouls were called on the Bloomington guards. Crump, for Greencastle, caged the ball both times and started the scoring. Bloomington then scored two field goals and took the lead. The score saw-sawed back and forth during this half one team leading and then the other. The whistle blew with the Bloomington boys leading 14 to 11. Crump for the local scored every point registered by the Greencastle team during this half of the game, tossing 4 field goals and 3 fouls.

The second half was hard fought from start to finish. The Greencastle team started fast and scored 3 field goals in the first few minutes of play, taking the Bloomington lads off their feet. The Greencastle teams then lead until the last few minutes of play when the Bloomington players made a spurt and scored 5 field goals in succession. The game ended with the score standing 30 to 22 in favor of the Bloomington players.

Crump and Small played an excellent game for the locals. The former scored 16 of the 22 points registered by the G. H. S. players. Small threw 3 pretty field goals in the last half of the game, and played the floor in excellent shape. Rodgers and Anderson starred for Bloomington.

The Filmore high school team won a game from the Greencastle high school ineligible which was played as a curtain raiser to the Bloomington contest. The game was rough and hotly contested throughout. The score was 30 to 10.

The line-up and summary of the game was as follows:

G. H. S. (22). B. H. S. (30).
Small ..... R. G. .... Louden
O'Brien ..... L. G. .... Reed
Crump ..... R. F. .... Anderson
Reel ..... R. F. .... Rogers
McIntosh, capt. L. F. .... May
Referee—Lewis of DePauw. Time of halves—20 minutes. Field goals—Anderson, 6; Rogers, 5; Crump, 5; Small, 3; Man, 2. Foul goals—Rogers, 4 out of 6 attempts; Crump, 6 out of 8 attempts.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Tuesday afternoon at two thirty o'clock, at the home of Miss Lottie Crouch, 308 south Locust street. Miss Bessie Smith will speak on life of Frances E. Willard, in honor of Miss Willard's "Heavenly Birthday."

Miss Hazel Vermillion, of Greencastle, attended the play, "At the End of the Rainbow" given by the Doff and Donn dramatic club of the Brazil High School, last evening.—Brazil Times.

PUTNAM SHOWS SMALL INCREASE

TOTAL TAXABLE PROPERTY OF THIS COUNTY HAS INCREASED FROM $6,484,730, TO $7,360,359 IN THE PAST TEN YEARS—TOTAL INCREASE OF 13.6 PER CENT.

AMOUNTS TO $875,620

In the past ten years the amount of the total taxables of Putnam county have been increased from $6,484,730 to $7,360,359, according to a statistical table of Indiana taxation just made public by the State Board of Tax Commissioners. The exact amount of the increase is $875,620.

The percentage of increase for the ten years is 13.6 or an average of 1.4 per cent. increase each year.

Five counties in Indiana, out of ninety-two, showed a decrease in the assessment of personal, corporation and railroad property for a period of ten years between 1903 and 1912 inclusive, according to the report. Ed F. Stenger, clerk of the state board, compiled the table, which shows the annual increase or decrease in total taxation of property. The increase for the ten years in some instances runs as high as 86 per cent., as was the case in Vanderburg county. Increases of only 2 per cent. in the ten years also are recorded. The rapid increase in taxable property in Lake county is shown. It was 86 per cent.

The five counties showing a decrease in the ten years of total assessments by both state and county assessing agencies were: Blackford, Fountain, Grand, Jefferson and Madison.

FARMING IS PROFITABLE FOR THOSE WHO STUDY

ST. PAUL, Feb. 12.—The farmer who regards his farm as a factory and himself as its manager will be repaid by added profits and a personal satisfaction which could not be realized should he fail to take advantage of the opportunities offered him for careful and business-like management of his affairs.

This observation was the keynote of an address given by D. H. Otis, of the college of agriculture of the University of Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' Association, held here today.

The speaker described two classes of dairy farms—one lot chosen at random and the other a selected list of farms operated by successful Badger state dairymen. He showed that the total capital invested for the farms chosen at random amounted to about $20,000, while the special dairy farms had a total capital of approximately $30,000. The expense for the operation of the farms selected at random was about $2,500, and of the dairy farms $5,000.

Receipts and Net Profits.
The receipts on the indifferently handled farms averaged about $3,000 and the special selected, $8,000. The net profits or what the farmers got for their work after deducting all other expenses, including 5 per cent. interest on the investment amounted to a little over $2,800 for the special dairy farms.

Mr. Otis pointed out that while the capital invested on the special dairy farm was 50 per cent. greater than on the farms taken at random, and that while the expenses on these farms were considerably greater, the net profits or labor income was between five and six times as great on the special dairy farms as on the farms taken at random.

BAD WRECK, BUT NO ONE IS INJURED

The city of Greencastle suffered a severe loss this morning, when the snow plow, which was being engineered by Lawrence Gasaway, struck an obstruction, hidden under the snow and was so badly wrecked that work at plowing the snow off of the sidewalks had to be stopped for the day. So those people whose sidewalks had not been cleaned before the accident occurred, will have to put up with the snow until the plow is repaired, unless they clean off their own walks.

BLIZZARD BRINGS FIRST SLEIGHING

MANY ENJOY SPORT AFTER STORM THAT RAGED FIERCELY ALL DAY, LEAVING 4.3 INCHES OF SNOW—WIND PILES UP DRIFTS THROUGHOUT CITY—TRACTION LINES KEPT OPEN WITH DIFFICULTY.

LITTLE DAMAGE IS DONE

This is fine Christmas weather.

If it were only Christmas, the 4.3 inches of snow that fell yesterday be appreciated more. But it brought a modicum of comfort to scores of lucky persons who have had their sleighs in storage, and many made merry Friday night and today with the first real sleighing of the winter.

The blizzard that raged throughout the day did a lot of growing without much biting, for the heavy blanket of snow did little if any damage to property, and aside from upsetting interurban and railroad schedules a bit, did not harm public utilities. Telephone and telegraph companies reported that the storm did practically no damage to their lines.

The wind was a source of much discomfort to pedestrians, and the clouds of fine snow that filled the air all day were a real menace to life and limb at crossings. No serious accidents were reported, however. The wind piled drifts to a depth of two and three feet or more in some places, and caused the street department a hard day's work.

BNGGY IS OVERTURNED IN A SNOW DRIFT; WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Ezra Chris of Terre Haute, while driving southeast of the city Friday night, was painfully injured when the buggy was overturned. She received a bad scalp wound and severe bruises. A physician was called from this city.

Mrs. Chris was called here Friday evening on account of the death of Mrs. William Cotton, who resides about 4 miles southeast of town. She, in company with George Rodgers, hired a livery rig from a stable in Coatesville and started for the Cotton home. The buggy was overturned in a snow drift as they were crossing a farm to get from the road to the Cotton home. The glass in the front of the storm buggy was broken and Mrs. Chris received a severe scalp wound. The buggy was overturned in a deep snow drift and the horse was unable to run. Mrs. Chris was taken to the home of William Cotton where her injuries were dressed by a local physician.

The condition of S. P. Browning, who lives north of the city, who has been ill for several months, was reported worse today. His condition is very critical.

FRIDAY NIGHT THE COLDEST OF YEAR

TEMPERATURE REACHED A LOW MARK OF ONE DEGREE ABOVE ZERO DURING THE NIGHT—MILDER WEATHER THIS MORNING AND GRADUALLY GROWING WARMER.

EIGHT ABOVE AT 8 O'CLOCK

Friday night was the coldest night of the year, according to the records kept by E. Shipley. The temperature reached a low point of 1 degree above zero during the night. This is one degree colder than it had been at any other time this winter.

The morning brought milder weather, however, and at 8 o'clock the thermometer registered 8 degrees above zero, and all during the day the temperature moderated. Milder weather is promised in today's weather report.

Relation of Crime to Insanity.

The Little Rock, (Arkansas), Democrat, of February 9, publishes the following editorial, written by W. T. Sitlington, formerly of The Herald, which deals with Indiana men, well-known here:

Insanity and crime, the former a condition and the latter a deed, are becoming linked closer and closer as legal advisers to criminals become wiser, and as students of the human mind make fresh discoveries. The missing link, that connection which alienists will show that all crime can be traced directly to mental deficiencies, may at some future time be proved conclusively by them.

On the other hand instances have been found where the supposed lunatic has had so great a mental power that reputable business men, men of prominence in the world, have fallen victims to his scheming. This, alienists attribute to the lunatic having great power of mental concentration in one way and being deficient or insane in another. Whether the students of the human brain are correct or on a wild goose chase, the fact remains that insanity is a dominating figure in many criminal cases.

One has only to cite the case of Herbert Coons, a man of many aliases, who recently swindled a wealthy Terre Haute, Ind., man out of $20,000 while the latter was in Hot Springs, Ark. After a chase which ended with Coons being kidnapped in Chicago and hurried to Hot Springs by a detective of that city, Coons was convicted and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. His attorneys pleaded insanity; an insanity inquest was held, and Coons was declared of unsound mind. Yet he had had not only swindled the Terre Haute, Ind., man, but many others who had always been successful business men. Coons work extended over a period of twenty years, and never before had he been detected.

Coons was transferred to the Insane Asylum at Arkansas because he was "of unsound mind." Recently, with the aid of two attendants, he escaped, and has not been apprehended. The attendants were arrested, each charged with having aided and abetted an insane criminal to escape. Their cases are now pending before the grand jury.

The lunatic's power will figure in their trial, unless indications at their preliminary hearing are misconstrued. Their attorney, a man who has handled the cases of many noted criminals, elicited the information from the superintendent of the asylum that the two attendants had inferior minds when compared with that of Coons. Coons has an extraordinary strong mind, at least in one sense, that of compelling others to see things his way, according to the superintendent. The head of the asylum said it would have been easily possible for Coons to have overpowered the attendants' scruples and gotten them to aid him merely by bringing his superior mental abilities to use and overpowering their minds. Yet Coons was insane! The superintendent's statements must be taken as those of an expert, for he has held positions at the head of numerous insane hospitals and insane asylums in the Eastern and Northern States.

In Jeffersonville, Ind., at the Indiana State Reformatory, a line of study and work never before used in a penal organization is now being pursued. Professor R. B. von Klein Smid, formerly at the head of the department of psychology of DePauw University, at Greencastle, Ind., is assistant superintendent of the reformatory and has direct supervision over the inmates when they are first confined. Only persons under age are taken to that place. Every criminal sent there is minutely examined by Professor von Klein Smid. The convict's habits, his ancestry, the environments of his youth and his surroundings when the crime for which he was convicted are learned and recorded. In this way the cause of his downfall is brought out, and in the majority of cases mental deficiency is the cause. The deficiency may have been inherited, but usually it may be traced directly to disease or habit. The disease or habit, as the case may be, are germ-like in its process of destruction, and in many cases the germ itself does the work. The germ feeds on the brain cells and causes a form of insanity. This, alienists say, is the essence of criminology.

JOE BAKER SUFFERS STROKE OF APOPLEXY

Joseph Baker, who several years ago suffered a severe stroke of apoplexy, suffered another attack of the same disease this morning at about 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Baker was in the office of the Grand Central Hotel, when taken ill. Jess Lewman, manager of the hotel, and others who were in the hotel lobby, caught Mr. Baker just as he was about to fall, and placed him in a chair. Physicians were called and for a while it was feared that the attack would prove fatal. Later he rallied and at about 11 o'clock was taken to his home on east seminary street. This afternoon he is reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

PUTNAM HAS 19 VOTES IN CONVENTION

COUNTIES IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT ARE ALLOWED ONE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATE TO EACH 150 VOTES CAST FOR GOVERNOR AT LAST ELECTION—COMMITTEE SETS DATE AND PLACE.

ELECT KAUFFMAN SEC'Y.

According to the apportionment of the delegates to the Fifth District Democratic Congressional Convention to be held in the Superior Court room in Terre Haute, on Tuesday, March 24, Putnam county will have 19 delegates out of a total of 125.

The district committee at its meeting held in Terre Haute Friday evening to select a time and place for holding the congressional convention, decided upon allowing each county one delegate for each 150 votes cast in that county for Governor Ralston at the last election.

According to this apportionment the several counties will have the following number of delegates:

Clay	21
Hendricks	16
Parke	13
Putnam	19
Vermillion	11
Vigo	46

Total 125
(Necessary to choose) 64

Every county was represented at the meeting held in Terre Haute Friday night. Forest Kauffman of Vermillion was elected by the county chairmen to serve as secretary of the district committee during the ensuing two years.

So far only one candidate has announced himself in the race for the nomination for Congress. He is Congressman Ralph Moss and it is probable that he will have no opposition.

The official call as issued Friday night by District Chairman James L. Randel, is as follows:

Democratic Congressional Convention.

Minutes Mean Dollars IN TREATING ANIMALS

Doubtless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that roughly applied remedies are often worse than no treatment at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. First aid is the great secret of treating horses. Minutes mean dollars. If you cannot give proper treatment, it is always necessary that is just how Humphrey's 50 page Veterinary Manual will prove as valuable to you. It is by F. Humphrey, M. D., V. S., and teaches how to diagnose, and give proper treatment. This book will save you hundreds of dollars now and you nothing. It will be sent absolutely free on request to any farmer in order to introduce Humphrey's Veterinary Remedies. Remember, it is absolutely free. You do not have to order any remedies to secure the book. Address, Humphrey's Homeopathic Medicine Company, 156 William Street, New York City. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain a veterinary treatise that you should have in your library. As a reference work you will find it invaluable. To have it in the time of need will be worth many dollars, whereas it will cost you but a few cents for postage for it now.

DAN APPEALS TO STUDENTS TO REPENT AND ACCEPT CHRIST

Week's series of Sheridan reached a climax last evening when he made an appeal to the students to repent and accept Christ. Sheridan showed the probability of death intervening before one had a chance to make his peace with God, and cited historical evidence of personal experience. He pleaded with the congregation to enter upon a new life before sin might find its hold.

Pleased With Meetings. Sheridan expressed pleasure in the success of the student meetings today and said that he was particularly gratified with the results of the talks were creating in the students.

It has indeed been a good series of talks," said Dr. Sheridan, "and I am glad that I have had the opportunity to help the students who have been so true."

Last private conferences with the students will probably be held today as Dr. Sheridan has found it necessary to leave for Chicago Saturday evening.

Four o'clock this evening Dr. Sheridan led a meeting of students who are intending to give their lives to the kind of social service.

Great God, wake up, O men of Congress, wake! Rebellious fires burst forth throughout the land, and turned to mischief is the worker's hand. Before the mob, the States and Counties quake, Officials cringe for re-election's sake. Once useful men and women starving stand; Death-traps of torch and dynamite are planned. The placid rich will few concessions make.

O men of Congress, give us peace again! The States are weak. To you we all cry out, Make clear the rights of masters and of men, Leave us no longer in this hell of doubt. This is your task; the sore spreads nation wide That festers now within the nation's side.

and now we have the sleigh-bell. The happy-go-luckies and the happy-go-luckies. The first of the year as they were wearing their overcoats and mackintoshes at home when they went on. If you have felt boots, prepare to wear them; if your shoe soles thin, prepare to make a trip to the cobbler.

his is the first real "snap" of the year. For months the coal man has been hibernating but during the last days he has been wearing a smile and threatens to annihilate his ears. His place in the long line of pessimists which we usually see is the every-night man (or woman, as the case may be. And they have a thought for the poor sailors and the horse that is taking them a joy ride in the rusty-runner. They only hope for fear the new will raise the price of American duties before tomorrow.

and still the pessimists are few, and still the statistics gathered by the Spring Daily reporters this morning. Several persons were heard to whistle as they ploughed their way across the unswamp sidewalks of the city, and only one fight has been reported so far from collisions resulting from snow in the eyes of pedestrians. Most of the cold blooded denials who walk with their chins in the place where their ties should have taken accidents good naturedly.

During the last three days almost eight inches of snow has fallen. The lines on all of the lines which run through the city are from one to five feet behind time and the interurban cars are slightly off schedule. Why worry about a little thing like that? Mother Goose has not paid us a visit for a long time and we are used to see her and all of the little things.

WALTER ALLEN STORE ROBBED OF MONEY AND CHECKS BY STUDENTS

The Walter Allen Drug Store was entered by unknown thieves Thursday night and the cash register was relieved of about $44 dollars in cash and four checks, the amount of which has not yet been determined.

It is thought that the building was entered between 11 and 12 o'clock. The window at the southeast corner of the general sales room was "jimmied" and evidences of a hasty entrance and exit were left on the window sill.

The robbers left the safe, which is close to the window through which they entered untouched and, it seems, went directly to the cash register which they broke open for the money and checks. The banks were notified and warned of stolen checks this morning.

Two students were seen loafing around the building shortly after closing hours Thursday night, but up to noon today Sheriff Rinier and Bailiff Haupt had not been able to locate the guilty parties. They have several suspects on their list but at present they are withholding their reasons for not making any arrests.

What are the lawyers-to-be in Edlie Troxell's class in advanced debate going to do with this case? The robbery was "pulled off" for their benefit and practice in handling such a case. The attorney for the defense are Whittitt, Jenkins, Niece, Long and Ibach. The attorneys for the prosecution are Wilkie, Schmalzried, Friedrich, Smith and Filer. Ivo Hale will act as judge. The other members of the class have planned and executed the robbery or will act on the jury. The trial will begin with the first meeting of the class next week.

FRIDAY NOT UNLUCKY SAYS SHERIDAN THIS MORNING IN CHAPEL

Today, being Friday, the thirteenth, was hailed by Dr. Wilbur R. Sheridan who is leading the Student Meetings as a day in progress, as one of the luckiest days in the year. - Landing of the Mayflower.
- Destruction of the Bastille.
- Richmond evacuated.
- Marriage of Queen Victoria.
- Signing of the Declaration of Independence.
- Battle of Bunker Hill.

FOOTBALL RULES COMMITTEE MAKES FEW SERIOUS CHANGES

The most important ruling of the inter-collegiate football rules committee which closed its annual session at New York, February 7, was that coaches will no longer be permitted to remain on the side lines.

Other rulings of prominence are as follows:

Intentional grounding of forward pass will be penalized by the loss of ten yards from the point of scrimmage.

When the ball from a freak kick hits a goal post and bounds back into the field, the play is counted as a touch back.

After the teams line up the team having the ball shall not enter the neutral zone in shift formation.

A player out of bounds when the ball is put in play penalizes his team by the loss of five yards.

BLODGETT KNOCKS SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM, IN SPEECH.

W. H. (Bill) Blodgett, well-known reporter of The Indianapolis News, in a recent address before the Wabash College Press Association, characterized the courses in journalistic schools over the country as failures.

"These schools fail in their attempt to make newspaper men," Blodgett said. "The only school of worth is the school of hard knocks, for a student forgets all of his school journalism as soon as he begins real work. A four year's general college course is a better training for the newspaper man than any specialized course in newspaper work."

DePAUW ATHLETIC BOARD TO SELECT COACHES SOON

DePauw's track and baseball coaches for the coming seasons probably will be selected at a meeting of the Alumni Athletic Board which will be held for the last of this week or the first of next Manager Ellis announced this morning. The meeting likely will be held in Indianapolis, although there is a possibility that the board may gather in Greencastle.

No hint was given as to who may be selected but it is understood that several good men are in view. This matter has demanded the attention of the alumni for sometime but heavy business obligations on their part have prevented an earlier meeting. It is understood that an effort will be made to engage men who can take charge of the two squads as soon as it is possible to begin practice.

"POLITICAL BEES" ALL SET FOR GRAND SWARM SOON

The "political bee" is beginning its semi-annual buzzing once more unless the present frigidty of the atmosphere annihilates it, one or perhaps both of the lower classes will stage their second semester "ballot-box stuffing" contest sometime next week.

The sophomores hope for hte first time in the history of the class to choose officers at the first election and without the assistance of the Student Council.

The coming elections will be watched with special interest because they will show somewhat of the strength of the two new parties.

A TRUE LIGHT ON STATE FINANCES

Auditor of State O'Brien Gives the Facts.

REPUBLICANS WERE WASTERS

It is pointed out conclusively how for sixteen years the Republican State Administration Had Conducted the Affairs of the State on the Theory That You Could Spend More Money Than Your Income Without Creating a Deficiency.

In his recent notable address before the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association Mr. William H. O'Brien, auditor of state, presented the first fully comprehensive statement given to the public in years in relation to state finances, serving completely to refute the oft repeated declarations of the Republican press of the state that the Republican administration never had been under the necessity of calling on the county treasurers for advance settlements. Mr. O'Brien said:

The tax rate is always an interesting question to the man who pays, and just now we are hearing much talk about the increase in state taxes. The opposition press charge the Democratic administration with increasing state taxes, then romance on increased salaries, and then stop. The reason for the increase in the tax rate is that the Republicans, who controlled the finances of the state for sixteen years, were not only wasteful in their appropriations but they did not have the moral courage to cope with the condition they had created.

When the Democratic party came into full possession of the state administration, after the 1910 election, they were confronted with both a theory and a condition. For sixteen years the Republican state administration had conducted the affairs of the state upon the theory that you could spend more money than your income, without creating a deficiency. The condition was a treasury empty and as dry as a Dead Sea apple, as outlined in the inaugural message of Governor Hanly to the legislature on January 8, 1905, when he said that "Revenues for the present year have been anticipated to the extent of $529,639.93," and said further: "This condition of the finances will become an actual embarrassment to the treasury before the end of the current year. It can be met only by borrowing outright, or by anticipating the revenues for the next fiscal year." At that time Mr. Hanly was pretty good Republican authority.

Marshall's Note of Warning. Before the end of the fiscal year of 1905, the state had received advance payments from the counties aggregating $294,449.63. After four more years of Republican extravagance the same condition existed when Governor Marshall was inaugurated, and he sounded a note of warning to the General Assembly in 1909.

In May, 1908, in the closing year of Governor Hanly's administration, the state was beginning advance payments from the counties in order to meet its current obligations. In that month, when the Republicans were in full control, the Indianapolis News said, with reference to a demand by the state upon Marion County for $100,000 and threatened legal proceedings to get it: "The state is sorely in need of money and this is the reason drastic efforts are to be made to collect the $100,000. It is declared that the state will not have enough to take care of this month's pay roll unless the advance payment is made."

The state tax levies from 1895 to 1909, inclusive, amounted to seven hundred cents annually on each one hundred dollars of valuation of taxables for the state general fund, benevolent institutions' fund and the state sinking fund. In 1910 the sinking fund, on the recommendation of Governor Marshall, was reduced 1.53 cents, making the net annual tax levies up to 1914, for the three funds named, 15.530 cents. The sinking fund of three cents, established by the Democratic legislature of 1895, was used for the payment of the state debt up to the year 1904; in fact, every dollar of the state bonded debt paid in the last twenty years was paid under a Democratic law, and the only years in that period passed without any payment on the debt was when the Republican law with its transfer attachment was in force, and which was not enacted for debt-paying purposes. In 1905, and during the administration, the sinking fund of three cents was transferred, in its entirety, to the state general fund, thus providing one million and a half dollars for the payment of the current expenses of the extravagant Republican administration. In 1908 the sinking fund of three cents was restored, but the law making the levy authorized the transfer of the sinking fund for the years 1908, 1909, 1910 and part of 1911 to the state general fund for the payment of current expenses, and by reason of current expenses, in the expiring hours of their administration in 1910, transferred $789,660.61 to the general fund for the payment of current expenses of the state, in order to conceal a deficiency in the general fund of $690,000. The legislature of 1911, in fixing the sinking fund levy, provided that it should be held sacred for the payment of the state debt, and this provision in the law has always been the policy of the Democratic party. The money collected for the sinking fund in 1912 and 1913 was used for the payment of the state debt, and not a dollar of the sinking fund, since the Democratic debt-paying law was enacted, has been transferred to the general fund for the payment of current expenses. Democrats Adopt Business Methods.

If the system inaugurated by the state house Republicans had been followed by the present administration, the sinking fund would have been spent for general expenses; no part of the state debt would have been paid; and there would have been no need for temporary loans to be made by the Democratic Administration. But the Democratic administration preferred to transact the affairs of the state in a business-like manner.

The reduction of the tax rate in the year 1910 of 1.53 cents made a total saving for the years 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913 of six cents on every one hundred dollars of taxable property in the state, and one cent upon the present valuation of taxables will yield revenue of $185,000.00, so that in the last four years the Democratic state administration has saved six cents on every one hundred dollars of taxables, which would amount to $1,110,000; that is, the taxpayers have retained in their pockets $1,110,000 instead of paying that amount into the state treasury.

The all-Democratic administration has paid off $339,000 of the bonded indebtedness of the state, and $103,000 of the state board of agriculture's colossal indebtedness, making in all a total reduction in the state debt of $442,000. It does not take a skilled mathematician, who figures with an honest pencil, long to learn that the taxpayers have been benefited by the present administration in the improvement of the finances of the state by the reduction in taxes, and the payments on the state debt of more than $1,713,000.

The total foreign bonded debt of the state is now $350,000, and the Ralston administration will pay all of this debt before January 1, 1915, so that the only debt remaining after the first day of January, 1915, will be the domestic debt established for the investment of the permanent endowment funds of the educational institutions, and the Vincennes University bond due in 1917.

Inheritance of Embarrassment.

The Ralston administration inherited the embarrassed financial condition of the state, and did not create it. Governor Ralston did not sicken or hesitate when the financial crisis of the state confronted him, but "went to it" and had the honesty and courage to grapple with the situation, and the policy of "will pay tomorrow" will soon be no more.

The legislature of 1913, upon the recommendation of Governor Ralston, had the courage to meet the condition and provide a remedy, and make a tax levy sufficient to meet the obligations of the state in a business-like way. The fact is that for twenty years every political subdivision in the state, to the smallest town, has been managed with more business concern and judgment than the finances of the state—due to the lack of backbone to provide sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the state government.

The educational institutions fund was established in 1897, and the rate was 1.662 cents. In 1903 the rate was increased to 2.75 cents, and this rate remained until 1914, when the rate was fixed at seven (7) cents and out of the money provided by this law the educational institutions in the future must pay all their maintenance charges, the cost of new buildings and new equipments of every kind. Under the old system the tax rate would yield about one-half the necessary funds for the institutions, and the balance was taken from the general fund which made it necessary to draw continuously upon future revenues.

The Benevolent Institutions' Fund was established in 1891, and during all these years since that date has stood still until 1913, when the rate was fixed at 10 cents. The institutions have increased in number; the population of each institution has increased in great numbers; the cost of living has increased, but there has never been any provision made for these new conditions. The old tax rate of five (5) cents yields $957,500 annually, and the expenses of the maintenance of the benevolent institutions total $1,829,000—the deficiency of about $900,000 was taken out of the general fund. And the result of it all was that when the Democrats came into power they found the state's income mortgaged far in advance.

The legislature of 1913 in increasing the rate of taxes for the educational institutions and benevolent institutions was prompted by an earnest desire to provide an ample income to put these institutions upon a business basis, and not upon the guessing plan of levying a tax which would be only one-half of their demands for support.

Result of Financial Profligacy.

The Republican party was in complete control of the state administration from 1895 to 1913; and during that period of sixteen years, the state house Republicans called for advance payments from the counties to the general fund to meet current expenses of the state, the sum of $15,408,340.62. During the same period when the were in full and complete control they transferred from the benevolent institution tax fund to the general fund, the sum of $11,574,984.30. Thus the state house Republicans were ever postponing the day of settlement and now they cry "Democratic deficiency" in order to distract attention from their willful neglect to remedy the conditions their profligacy created.

The State Board of Finance created in September, 1909, for the purpose of meeting the deficiency on account of the obligations of the benevolent and educational institutions at the close of the fiscal year, $60,000 of this loan was paid in a short time and the balance was paid on the 31st of December, 1913, and on the 2d day of January the sum of $400,000 was borrowed to be paid June 30, 1914, for the purpose of paying the maintenance obligations of the benevolent and educational institutions, as the tax for their support made by the legislature of 1913 will not become available in full until the semiannual settlement in June, 1914, and it will be necessary to borrow further sums to meet the monthly maintenance obligations of these institutions for the reason that from January to June, 1914, no money will be paid into the state treasury for their support, except the small and insufficient monthly remittance from the counties. Do not be unnecessarily alarmed if you hear of an other temporary loan being made to take care of the inherited Republican deficiency.

It is believed that after the next semiannual settlement there will be no further embarrassment in taking care of the unfortunate wards of the state housed in the benevolent institutions, and the ambitious boys and girls of Indiana who attend the State Educational Institutions, as the revenue derived from this new tax will be sufficient to meet all the demands of these institutions.

The authority for making this temporary loan was given the State Board of Finance by the legislature of 1913, as it was known long in advance that there would be a deficiency at the close of the fiscal year in 1913. In fact for years past, immediately upon the adjournment of the legislature, it was known two years in advance when the deficiency would occur, and it was arrived on schedule time.

The tax levy for the payment of the general expenses of the State was reduced from nine (9) cents to seven (7) cents, or a saving of $370,000 per year, by the 1913 legislature. The statement of this fact alone without any further comment should set at rest forever the charge that the last legislature is responsible for the shortage in revenue on account of increase in salaries. The truth of the whole matter is that the increase in official salaries was a mere bagatelle amounting to about $15,000.

Our great common school system owes its existence to Democratic legislation. Practical education of the children of the State has always been the policy of the Democratic party. The last legislature, nearly solidly Democratic, enacted the Vocational Education law, and levied a tax of one (1) cent to put the law into operation. A member of President Wilson's cabinet has declared the Indiana law to be the best in the United States on the subject of Vocational Education. The Democratic party of Indiana by the enactment of this real progressive law quickly responded to the needs of the people.

There is no denying the fact that the increase in the cost of government in Indiana and in every county and city of the state is due to the increased functions of government. The people everywhere, in the Nation and the State, are demanding that the State shall undertake to do everything that is good for the people without counting the cost.

I never eat much," said Miss Lake. "For instance, at dinner I'll take Just baked beans and ham, A slice of stewed lamb, Fried spuds, pie, some hash and a steak."

How Not to Sleep.

Don't sleep on your left side, for it causes too great a pressure on the heart.

Don't sleep on your right side, for it interferes with the respiration of that lung.

Don't sleep on your stomach, for that interferes with the respiration of both lungs and makes breathing difficult.

Don't sleep on your back, for this method of getting rest is bad for the nervous system.

Don't sleep sitting in a chair, for your body falls into an unnatural position and you can not get the necessary relaxation.

Don't sleep standing up, for you may topple over and crack your skull. Don't sleep.—Puck.

DETECTIVES ARE AFTER THIEVES

MONON DETECTIVES HAVE LOCATED MEN WHO ARE CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO MONON CAR HERE JANUARY 2 AND STEALING 8 PAIRS OF SHOES.

AN OFFICER HERE TODAY

Monon Detective John A. Hayes was here this morning to consult with Prosecuting Attorney William Sutherland and Sheriff Theodore Boes, regarding a case of robbery here January 2. The Monon detectives state that a Monon car was broken into here on that date and eight pairs of shoes were stolen.

The railroad officers have been working on the case for two weeks and finally have located the men whom they believe to be guilty of the theft. The detective was here today to get warrants for the arrests of the men, who they believe to be guilty.

The warrants were issued and the Monon detective left at noon for Indianapolis where he will attempt to arrest the men. While here this morning Mr. Hayes asked that no publicity be given the case, but later Lafayette papers received here were found to contain the following:

Special Agent Albert H. Scofield, of the Monon, and his assistant, John A. Hayes, have succeeded in locating L. Crompton and J. Stam, who are charged with stealing shoes from a Monon car at Greencastle January 2. They are believed to be the men who have been robbing cars on the Monon and Vandalia for some time. They were arrested in Indianapolis and Messrs. Scofield and Hayes went to Indianapolis yesterday to take the two men to Greencastle for trial.

The story is not entirely authentic, as the men have not as yet been arrested. It is believed that the men will be arrested today and brought here for trial.

The Player Piano To BUY

The value of a Player Piano is in its ability to express music your way.

In the Manualo the power of expression is built into the instrument from the ground work up. It is an essential part of the player and through it you are able to get all the effects of hand playing—it plays the piano your way.

The Manualo pedals so lightly you are not conscious of any physical exercise.

There is an evenness of tone in the Manualo not found in any other player.

This is because of the short rounded air passages which make the air fingers practically in direct connection with the pedaling.

This is because of the graduated pneumatics each pneumatic being in size and power according to the size of the piano string and the hammer striking it.

The Manualo is Found Only in the Baldwin Line of Pianos.
